Holistic Management Training Course

Learn how to create a happy life & build a profitable business

Jason Virtue – Landlife Education

Holistic Management is oriented towards rural businesses, but apply to any type of enterprise or individual. You will learn about:

- Holistic Decision Making.
- Holistic Productive Grazing and Land Planning.
- Holistic Profitable Financial Planning.

The course is run over 9 days held in blocks of two or three days. The cost is $2,400 per enterprise for up to three people. It works best if all the people involved in a business come along and do the course together.

Central Burnett Landcare is offering sponsorship for each enterprise that does the course – how much will depend on how many businesses elect to do the course.

What you do today can improve all your tomorrows.
